The Executive to the Director

September 13,

Acting Chief, Interdepartmental Coordinating and Planning Staff
Foreign Nationalities Branch

Before following the suggestion received by ICAPS from ORB : that the FBI be contacted to determine whether they collect and maintain data on foreign nationalities, I should appreciate an instruction from you as to the established relationship between the CIG and the FBI on such matter.

[redacted] feels that we should not undertake this project as a CIG responsibility at this time.

He does feel, however, that we should have information available on foreign groups, insofar as their attitudes and reactions may reflect the national attitudes and reactions toward the United States in their home countries.

He suggests that FBI be contacted to determine whether they collect and maintain such data, and if not, that they be requested to do so for us.

This seems reasonable to me. I'm so swamped with priority organizational problems now that I recommend another of our men to make this contact and follow through.

Portions of the overall mission prescribed in attached draft will automatically fall within currently planned CIG operational functions, such as:
